Example

Sydney Alyssah Bradley will be a freshman during the 2018-2019 academic year majoring in Physics with a minor in Chemistry at Claflin University. She is the recipient of a varsity letter in swimming, the Community Service Scholarship through the Urban League, and recognition for the highest STEM GPA from Booker T. Washington High School. Upon graduating from Claflin University she plans to earn a Ph.D. in nuclear physics from the University of Dar es Salaam in Tanzania. Ultimately she would like to start her professional career by working for the Alliance to Save Energy, an international coalition consisting largely of industrial, technological, and energy corporations.
